

I ride waves, climb mountains and can't resist to hum to Disney tunes. I don't give up unless I have tried my best. I need creative activity like I need air. The cinema is my sacred place. When I stay, I tend to plant my roots deep into the ground. I easily grow fond of things in life, and people are the main reason that keeps me going.

If we get to work together, it'll be your turn to tell me about you.

Once upon a time

IN FARAWAY LAND

A little boy with the immense power of imagination was born in Indonesia at twilight. Many summers later, he travelled the world all the way to Australia in search of ways to use his gifts. In the span of a decade he became A Bachelor of Architecture, a Master of Design principles and psychology, a passionate children's book illustrator, a fast 2D animator and a Senior Head of a design agency.

What is he up to now you may ask? He is currently passionately building his own design brand called Little Lighthouse Studio, with a goal to further use his gifts for better purposes.
